On Low Spirits. Low spirits is a certain state Sept 2, 1886 of the mind, accompanied by indigestion, wherein the greatest evils are apprehended upon the slightest grounds, and the worst consequences imagined Ancient writers supposed this disease to be confined To those particular regions of the abdomen technically called hypochondria, which are situated on the right or left side of that cavity, whence comes the name hypochondriasis. SYMPTOMS. The common corporeal symptoms are flatulency in the stomach or howels, acrid eructations, custiveness, spasmodic pains, giddiness dimners of sight, palpitations, and often an utter inabitiny of fixing the attention upon any subject of importance, or engaging in any thing that demands igor or coorage. Also languidness; the mind becomes irritable, thoughtful desponding, melancholy and dejected, accompanied with a total derangement at the nervous system. The mental feelings and peculiar train of ideas that haunt the imaginaion and overwhelm the judgment exhibitan infinite diversity. The wisest and bost of men are or open to this affliction as the weakest.
